

Wakefield Vellum Documents

This collection of vellum documents was purchased from William C. Wakefield by Northwestern University in 1959. There are more than 300 documents including indentures, deeds, leases, omnibuses, wills, a few court rolls, conveyances, and other legal documents from the fourteenth century through the early twentieth century. Most of them have small wax seals and a few also have large royal seals, some of which are intact in their original metal canisters. There are also a few photostats of documents Wakefield sold before delivering the collection to Northwestern University.

The following guide to the collection consists of a box inventory, a description of the documents arranged chronologically and grouped by monarch's reign, and some information on terminology for users unfamiliar with deeds and documents.

Documents which have been flattened are stored in large quires within six oversize drop-spine boxes (I – VI) and three oversize folders or quires (VII – IX). These are individually numbered within each quire and box with dates included as well. The remaining folded documents have been arranged chronologically in manuscript boxes (AA, A – F). Each of these documents also has identifying numbers and dates. Since many of the documents are “dated” only by regnal year, e.g. 10 Elizabeth, an attempt has been made to supply a conventional date for easier identification.

Many of the documents also have a Wakefield number (W#). All documents on Wakefield's original catalog were numbered in an attempt to inventory the deeds against the catalog. However, it became apparent that not only was Wakefield's catalog filled with errors in dating and description, but that he must have made substitutions when transferring them to Northwestern University. The library received fewer than eighty percent of the documents in his original catalog, but also an additional eighty documents not described there at all. The W# has been retained for any researcher interested in tracking this provenance and to help in identifying a particular document. Wakefield's corrected catalog and the McCormick Library's inventory report are retained in the department's files.

For information about the history and use of documents such as these, see N.W. Alcock's Old Title Deeds: a Guide for Local and Family Historians (Chichester, 1986; McCormick Library 346.0438 A354o). The McCormick Library appreciates the corrections made by Mr. Alcock during his examinations of the documents on a visit. Mr. Alcock has included these documents in his broader deeds database.

Some West Indies slave trade documents from 1742 – 1794 acquired through special purchase were added to the collection in box G.

Definitions and Abbreviations

The information below can be found in N.W. Alcock's book, Old Title Deeds: a Guide for Local and Family Historians (346.0438 A354o).

Bargain and sale: form of conveyance used in the 16th and 17th century before lease and release became standard terms; created in 1535 as an alternative to feoffment, the medieval transfer of property through seizin ceremony. Both involved a public ceremony and enrollment with the courts. Lease and release were more private, yet still secured a deed.

Copies of court roll: recorded changes in land ownership on the manor in manor court rolls. Each copyholder's title was in the manor court roll, but the individual kept a copy as his title deed.

Dates: Before 1752 the year was started on 25 March. Any date from 1 January to 24 March can be assumed to belong to the next calendar year, e.g. 17 February 1724 is really 1725 (Alcock, pp. 34-35). It is sometimes recorded as 1724[/5]. Consult C.R. Cheney's Handbook of Dates for Students of English History (Royal Historical Society, 1970; McCormick Library 942 C518h)

Exemplification of a fine: copy prepared by the court for its records; it often accompanies a conveyance or mortgage.

Fine or final concord: (Hec est finalis concordia. . .) record of a case in the Court of Common Pleas. It was prepared in triplicate; the left and right parts were for the plaintiff and defendant or purchaser and seller; the purchaser often kept both copies.

Lease and release: pair of deeds, usually for conveyance or mortgage; the lease (or bargain and sale) was signed by the owner and given to the tenant; counterpart lease was signed by the tenant and kept by the owner. Assignment of lease occurred when the tenant assigned the rights to someone else or sublet the property.

Mortgage: lease for a long period at a nominal rent.

Quitclaim: medieval in origin, but functions by the 16th century to release the rights of the first party to the second.

Recovery: a court action so that the final owner could "recover" a property that was entailed. The document produced was an exemplification and sealed with the seal of the Court of common Pleas, usually in a tin box (skppet) and accompanied by a conveyance.
